DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-44, 48, and 52-60, drawn to the optical devices with bi-directional, polarization-dependent paths, classified in class 385, subclass 11.
 - II. Claims 45-47 and 49-51, drawn to the optical communication systems, classified in class 359, subclass 156.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions in Group I and Group II are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product (MPEP § 806.04(b), 3rd paragraph), and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.04(h)). In the instant case, the intermediate product is deemed to be useful as devices that can split the light signals in response to the polarization of the light signals and the intermediate product can be utilized in systems besides communications systems and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct since there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions anticipated by the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 2882

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

In the event that the applicant elects Group I, a further election of species as set forth below is required:

Species 1: Figure 5. The subject matter that is the patentably distinct species in figure 5 is the transmissive fiber optic polarization separator/combiner that utilizes a birefringent material and a prism.

Species 2: Figure 6. The subject matter that is the patentably distinct species in figure 6 is the transmissive fiber optic polarization separator/combiner that utilizes a Wollaston prism.

Art Unit: 2882

Species 3: Figure 7. The subject matter that is the patentably distinct species in figure 7 is the reflective fiber optic polarization separator/combiner that utilizes a birefringent material and a polarization rotator.

Species 4 Figure 8. The subject matter that is the patentably distinct species in figure 8 is the reflective fiber optic polarization separator/combiner that utilizes a birefringent material and a faceted reflector.

Species 5 Figure 10. The subject matter that is the patentably distinct species in figure 10 is the transmissive fiber optic polarization separator utilizing a faceted birefringent beam separator.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, none of the claims are considered generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 2882

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
